

SVETN Employees Present at ANGEL Users Conference

Recently SVETN employees, Debbie Colley, Alicia Young and Jonathan Shelton, presented a session the national ANGEL Users Conference in Louisville. Their demonstration of innovative help desk tools, that were created and integrated into ANGEL by Jonathan, caused quite a stir of interest among other ANGEL users.

ANGEL is the learning management software used by SVETN teachers to design, develop and deliver courses and workshops. ANGEL Learning's President and CEO, Christopher Clapp and all of the company's VPs actively participate in the annual conference. ANGEL recently rolled out a new version of their product that will greatly enhance the learning environment with robust features including its use for disseminating and collecting information beyond students and teachers enrolled in courses.

For information on SVETN's use of ANGEL for Elite Learning courses and other programs visit our website, www.svetn.org.

